R. L. DAVIDSON,

Life insurance policies bought for cash, or loaned on for sums of $500, and upward.

Items of Local Interest.

Circuit court begins next Monday.

Rights-of-way come pretty high, don't they, Bro. McIntyre?

The colored teachers institute is in session at the court house this week.

Danville has raised about $11,000 for the railroad. Cut and come again brethren. That's not a breakfast-spell.

The open air concert will be given at Mrs. McRoberts' Friday night.

T. J. Hatcher has applied for a copyright on his picture of Jefferson Davis and Cabinet. He will make big money on it.

Mr. R. L. Elkin took several premiums on his chickens at Danville last week. His ducks also came in for several blue ties.

"What are you doing, trying to get our railroad?" asked a Danville man of Bob Kinnaird, the other day. "Where did you get that railroad?" replied Bob.

Lecture Course.

A company has organized to conduct a lecture course here this fall and winter. They will have some of the strongest events on the boards.

Try This.

If Danville wants a railroad, why don't she go up and get one of Richmond's? She generally gets anything she wants from our Richmond neighbors.

Refreshments will be served in the Park, on the evening of Aug. 19, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor and the C. W. M. B. The public is respectfully invited. Admission, 15 cents.

Rev. T. H. Campbell preached a fine sermon at the Baptist church Sunday morning, which was listened to by many of his old friends and admirers. He and family returned to Washington Tuesday.

A Thick Rock.

The well drillers struck a solid rock near the surface when they began work, and it proved to be over four hundred feet thick. The driller says Lancaster is certainly on a good foundation.

Hon. G. G. Gilbert Here.

Hon. George G. Gilbert, democratic candidate for congress, was in town Saturday shaking hands with his many friends. So far no one has announced against him, and no talk of opposition is heard. He is a splendid man, and his record in congress is clean and enviable.

Remember the open air concert at Mrs. McRoberts' tomorrow (Friday) night. Admission 10c.

Contest Postponed.

The Elocutionary Contest announced for August 21, has been deferred until some future day, on account of the burning of the Opera House, and the absence and illness of some contestants.

A Fine Meeting.

Rev. Allen R. Moore is holding a protracted meeting at Hubble, which is being largely attended, and much good being accomplished. Mr. Moore is certainly a good and noble man, who is doing great good for the causes of Christ.

Ready For Business.

W. A. Arnold has opened a stable on Danville street and will be glad to furnish his old friends with new buggies, good horses and prompt attention. Harry Tolmison is in charge, and will be glad to wait on you.

Notice.

Lancaster Prohibition Alliance, No. 21, will meet at their usual place of meeting, Odd Fellows Hall, on the 3rd Friday night the 15th inst., at 8 o'clock. All members please come. Everybody invited—admission free. O. T. Wallace, Pres.

During the fire, a number of articles belonging to Mr. T. B. Long were taken to places of safety, and he has been unable to locate them. A wardrobe top, a silver card receiver, and other articles are yet missing, and if anyone has them he will be very thankful if they will let him know.

A Big Success.

The Danville fair was well attended and a success financially. Henry Bright, the clever secretary, is the right man in the right place. Saxton's band was on hand and made splendid music, but they always do that. A good band is the biggest drawing card a fair can have.

Maj. E. W. Lillard, of the Danville News, has returned from the State Guard encampment, taken off his soldier's clothes and gone to fighting for the railroad. Better keep on your fighting clothes, Eph.

To Tax-Payers.

The tax books are now ready, and you can find me at my office ready to receive taxes. This is a matter that must be attended to, so why put it off? Respectfully, W. L. Lawson, Sheriff.

A Longer Rope.

The well people ran out of rope last week and ordered a thousand more feet. They are very sanguine of success, and have not the slightest doubt but that they will strike water in the required quantity very soon. The machine is working night and day.

Big Crowd at C. O.

A big crowd of people is taking advantage of the many delightful attractions at Crab Orchard Springs. Mr. Willis is making a reputation as a host, and the elegant fare prepared under the supervision of Mrs. Willis is highly complimented. Now is the best time to visit Crab Orchard, and if you need rest and recreation, take a few days off and go over.

Lecture On Persia.

Rev. Paul Johns, a Persian, lectured at the Baptist church, last night, his subject being the customs, etc., of his native people. Rev. Mr. Johns came to this country some years since and is studying for the Baptist ministry, working his way through Georgetown college. He is an exceptionally bright young man.

Many Losses Paid.

The Insurance companies have settled about all the losses by reason of the hotel fire. The companies have had a hard row to hoe in Lancaster, and it's really a wonder that they write any business at all here. The hotel fire will cost them much more than they will collect on premiums in the entire country during the next two or three years.

Many Thanks, Boys.

Jessamine Journal:—Editor Louis Landram is receiving the congratulations on an extra edition of the Central Record, giving an illustrated account of the Lancaster fire. It was indeed a commendable piece of enterprise.

Danville Courier:—Editor Landram, of the Central Record, Lancaster, got out an extra edition on Monday giving a full and interesting write up of the disastrous fire there last Sunday, with half tone illustrations of the handsome New Garrard Hotel, before and after the fire. Bro. Landram is to be congratulated for his enterprise.

New Haven Echo:—The Lancaster Record with commendable enterprise was out Monday with extra containing a full account illustrated with half tones of Sunday's disastrous fire in that city. The people of Garrard are certainly to be congratulated on having such a newspaper man in their midst as clever Louis Landram and should give him the support that his energy and brains deserves.

Louisville Times:—It is hard to beat Louis Landram, of the Central Record, when it comes to enterprise. He issued an extra about Lancaster's fire, giving full particulars and printing cuts of the wrecked buildings.

Rev. Leonidas Robinson has returned from New Castle and will fill his appointments Sunday.

Work on the Presbyterian parsonage is moving along nicely. The building will be a very fine one.

Mr. J. T. Williams is pushing work on his new house, on depot street, and will soon have it done.

Continued Success.

Mr. Fox, the photographer, is secretary of the Baptist Convention, which meets next week, will not be here on Tuesday, the 19th, but will fill his appointment Friday, the 22nd, and every Tuesday and Friday thereafter.

Miss Sumrall, of Danville, and Miss Leavelle, of Bryantsville, are among those who will participate in the open air concert at Mrs. McRoberts' tomorrow (Friday) night.

For Commonwealth Attorney.

Hon. Robert G. McKee has announced from Boyle county as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in the Thirteenth Judicial District. Mr. McKee is well qualified for the position to which he aspires, and will command a strong following, both in his county and in others of the district. He has an unbroken record and is fully worthy of the endorsement of any voter.

Formerly Resided in Lancaster.

Danville Advocate:—Miss Anna Noel took first premium on chocolate cake, in which there were ten entries and on salt rising bread in which there were twelve entries. Snow drift, the cotton seed oil product was used instead of lard or butter and it is a high recommendation for this article that it should not be detected and that articles made with it should be awarded first premium.

They Can't Heat Him.

A horse which is attracting much attention just now is "Donorsino," owned by clever Mat Cohen, of Richmond. He is a chestnut gelding, four years old, 15½ hands high, sired by Dorsey Goldust, 1st dam by Sir Wallace. This horse has been shown at all the fairs and has never been beaten. He is the best gaited saddle horse seen in years. He is being shown at Lexington this week. Mat has refused $2,000 for him.

Not Our John.

Last week a fellow named John Farra broke into some freight cars at Burgin and his arrest was mentioned in all the neighboring papers. While it is true our John has had much to do in railroad matters, and especially with the Southern, yet everyone knew he would not take goods from a car. He might take the whole railroad, at least enough to run through Garrard county, but would not stop with even a train. The Farra arrested is said to be bad medicine.

Will Hold Conventions.

The Democratic Committee of this judicial district met in Danville Saturday to decide upon the time and manner of selecting democratic candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney. It was determined that the method should be precinct conventions, held December 6, to select delegates to county conventions to be held at the court-houses on December 8. Delegates will then be selected to a district convention to be held at Danville, Dec. 10, at which time the candidates will be nominated.

Chap On the Old Block.

In the Tournament ring at the fair Master Guy Hundley won first honors against nine contestants, many years his senior. Guy was an easy winner, having taken eight of twelve rings. Upon the announcement of his victory he was called to the band stand and presented, in a neat speech by Capt. English, with a handsome floral piece. Guy in turn gracefully presented the flowers to the queen, Miss Theresa Worthington.—Danville News.

Guy is the son of Everheart Hundley, and like his clever daddy, is possessed of a big heart and the many noble traits of character so well-known in the old Logan stock.

Graded School.

The trustees have completed the duties of selecting the new teachers and getting matters in shape for the approaching term of school. The session begins Monday, September 8th, and indications are that the attendance will be larger than heretofore. Prof. J. E. Mannix, formerly of Milan, Tenn., is principal, and he comes highly recommended both as a teacher and a christian gentleman. He has had many years experience in school matters. The other teachers are Prof. Howard Sullivan, of Falmouth, assistant principal, Miss Knapp West, Miss Alice Henderson, Miss Eliza Smith and Miss Amanda Anderson, of Lancaster and Miss Emma Washburn, of Louisville. The latter will have charge of the kindergarten and primary. The school is under the watch-care of an excellent board of trustees, and is an institution of which every citizen is very proud.

Nice Shop.

I am now fixed up over Haselden's store, next to police court room, and will give you a clean shave or stylish haircut. The fire only put us out for a day or so. Come to see us. Henry Duncan.

"Croak" Captured.

Night Policeman, Mat Siler, has had his eye peeled for cocaine peddlers for some time. Monday night he caught two negroes bringing in a lot from Stanford and took possession of the whole outfit, "coons" and all. Siler is a mighty good officer.

Our Danville brethren were in Stanford Monday and pumped the Lincoln, ites full of hot air. Danville has to hand over the right of way from Harrodsburg "clean" to Jellico, it looks like, from the way they are hustling.

Good Headway.

As stated in last issue of THE RECORD, the burned buildings will be replaced provided the company gets some outside help. These men put their money into the houses merely to build up a public enterprise which was badly needed in Lancaster. They expected nothing in return in the way of money. Now they are out two thousand dollars each. They are willing, so we are reliably informed, to put back every cent of the insurance and begin work at once, provided the people will make up the difference. There is not a business man in town who is not injured by the loss of the hotel and opera house, so its plain why all should lend a helping hand to replace them. As stated in these columns, we could get along better without any other institution than the hotel, so why not all put a shoulder to the wheel and help us get back at the head of the procession, where Lancaster rightly belongs? The editor of this paper has succeeded in getting a thousand dollars as donations, and this was done at odd times when we could get out of our office. If we can do this, why cant others do likewise? If any one else desires to come to the rescue, drop us a line and say what it is.

They Are Humming.

Of all the tall hustling you ever saw or heard tell of, the good people of Danville were doing it at the fair last week, and, we understand, the pace is still the same. They have a certain number of days in which to turn over to the Southern the right of way from Harrodsburg into Danville, and its about as hard a proposition as our good neighbors have ever gone against. The route goes through the finest land in Mercer and Boyle, and as few land owners have donated you see what a snug sum of money will have to be raised to get the road.

The Advocate said in a recent issue that this paper had abandoned the fight. This is a mistaken idea. We have simply "talked out" trying to get our people interested sufficiently to go to work and secure the right of way through Garrard. As stated in these columns many times, we have the most desirable route, the best grade and many other points in our favor, but that road is going where the people want it most, and if we don't come up to the scratch we will lose out. Notwithstanding the great good the town and county would derive from the road, there is little interest manifested, and the matter has drifted along until you seldom hear it mentioned. We have said all along that the road was going to be built, and made our statement from information that could not be disputed, some wisecracks to the contrary notwithstanding. But the matter is coming to a head, and our predictions are turning out to the letter. Danville has now struck the uphill pull, and she will find it a hard one, judging from our experience. We hardly believe she will succeed in raising the required amount, as the farms penetrated are among the best in Boyle county, and when it comes to paying for them it is going to take money, and lots of it, too. THE RECORD still maintains its original position in the matter, that the road is going to be built, that we have the most direct line and best territory, but to get it we must hand over the right of way through the county.

Nicholasville Journal:—George T. Mason, of Chicago, is visiting relatives in the Camp Nelson neighborhood. He is a native of Lancaster and a brother of W. B. "Keg" Mason, for many years circuit clerk of Garrard. Mr. Mason left Lancaster when quite a lad, locating in Chicago with an elder brother, Hugh, who is now a prominent attorney of that city. George is engaged in the life insurance business and has made a success of it. He is a genial gentleman and has a host of friends in Jessamine.

Mrs. Nannie Farra, Mrs. J. M. Farra and Mr. Earl Farra have gone to Lexington and Atlantic City.

Mr. Burns DeValcunt, who has been visiting Mrs. D. M. Lackey, has returned to his home in Chicago.

Mr. Malcolm Miller, of New York, and sister Miss Margaret, of Richmond, have been guests of Mrs. D. M. Lackey.

Mr. W. G. Anderson Mrs. H. M. Grant, children, Lucien and Wm. Bowman, have gone to visit Mrs. Bowman, near Flemingsburg.

House for Rent.

We desire to rent the house and lot on Lexington street below Dr. Acton's and will give possession at once. J. B. Kinnaird, WM. HENDSON, Secretary. President.

Count nothing lost—some one else will find it.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the judgeship of the 13th judicial district of Kentucky, composed of the counties of Boyle, Garrard, Lincoln and Mercer.

M. C. SAEFELY.

For Commonwealth Attorney.

We are authorized to announce Chas. A. Hardin as a candidate before the Democratic party as Commonwealth Attorney of this, the thirteenth Judicial District.

A Day of Fakirs.

There was probably never a time in the history of the State when there were so many fakirs wandering around trying to swindle farmers and other people out of their eye-teeth or anything else of value, says an exchange. You can scarcely pick up a paper but what you read of this man or that buying a gold brick of the most pronounced type. It is one game this time and a new one next time. Each fellow teaches a new trick and you can't learn them all without going "busted."

People are inclined to do their dealings with "furreners." They will send their money off to a mail order house or give it to some fakir wandering over the country, when the same goods could be bought for less money right at home. In one case you have the word of your home dealer and you know he will make matters right. In the other case you have the slick, sugar coated promise of a stranger who you will never see again and who never wants to see you. Home merchants are compelled to sell the best goods, because their honor and reputation are at stake. Mail order houses sell seconds of all goods and the purchaser is sometimes glad to get anything, never complaining when he fails to find a scarcity of kinship or complexion between the sample or description and the goods itself.

It's human nature, and until human nature changes home merchants will be deprived of trade that belongs to them and the general public will be hard up for the benefit of the dear people in other States.

Lancaster Graded School.

The eighth session of this institution will open Monday, Sep. 8th. All pupils living in the district are urged to be on hand the first day. Non-resident pupils may enter by paying to E. W. Harris, collector, the following rates of tuition, which MUST BE PAID IN ADVANCE:

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Lancaster, Ky. Aug. 14 1902.

It is with deep regret that the news paper men of Kentucky give up their beloved brother, Judge John H. Westover, who has sold his paper, the Williamson Courier, and will enter other business which calls him from the state. To know the judge is to be fond of him, and his retirement will make a vacancy in the ranks of the Press Association which will be hard to fill. His paper was one of the best in the state, and the following taken from his valedictory, will show what character of man he was:

"And now as the duties are ended and the labor is done we lay the burden down, conscious of the fact that in all of the fifteen years of service in Grant county as the editor of the Courier we have always aimed to dip our pen in the milk of human kindness, have dealt as kindly with the faults and follies of men as possible, have befriended many, have helped many, and in so doing have spent a small fortune for which we have no regret. The man who lives for himself alone had better not live at all."

The best illustration we have seen of the verdicts given against railroads is the following, which shows plainly how the average jury stands ready to gouge the companies, evidence or no evidence. Read this, and then listen next court: "If the train had been run as it should have been run: if the bell had been rung as it should have been rung; if the whistle had been blown as it should have been blown—both of which they did neither—the cow would not have been injured when she was killed."

A SEAT in the New York Stock Exchange was sold last week for $75,000 the highest price on record. Out here in the country, a seat around an empty goods box sometimes costs pretty high in the police court, but those in the city "exchange" are never molested by the police. Now, what is the difference in the principle? The craps shooter hasn't as much money as the "broker," and that's all.

AMONG the many other striking things Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge said at the Press Association meeting was "that a newspaper could be a gentleman just as much as a man could be a gentleman; that it could have a reputation just as a gentleman could have for forbearance, for kindness, for veracity, for absolute decorum, for every quality that becomes a gentleman."

THE Jessamine Journal advertises under its "Found" head, a set of false teeth. All the newspaper boys know Harry McCarty took that set of teeth on somebody's subscription, and being unable to use them is trying to get even by making some fellow pay charges on a notice.

Ur Go Brooms," is the headline of one of our esteemed daily exchanges. Brooms "go up" frequently at our house too, but, bless your soul, we don't say anything about it. We simply follow the old saw, "A good run is better than a bad stand."

THE Elizabethtown News had to be enlarged last issue to accommodate its rapidly increasing business. If the News grows to be as big as Harry Somers' heart, it will have to be sent to its readers by freight, as the mails could not haul it.

THE chestnut crop is reported unusually large this year. This is good, as the political speakers will be out in large numbers from now until the election, and it is fortunate the supply of campaign material is large.

THE Elks did the proper thing when they placed longer antlers on Mr. R.

W. Brown, of the Louisville Times. He has been appointed Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler for Kentucky, a compliment most worthily bestowed.

SOME one makes the startling announcement that it is impossible to swear in the Japanese language. That accounts for the small number of newspapers in that country, we presume.

Some Newspaper History.

The Owensboro Messenger sizes up the matter when it says every friend of Col. W. P. Walton—and no man in Kentucky has more—is feeling good over his triumphant victory over his enemies in Lexington, who tried to wreck his newspaper and his individual fortune by despicable methods. Col. Walton made a mistake in associating with himself in the Morning Democrat enterprise a lot of self-seeking politicians. He ought to have turned them down from the outset, or insisted that their stock be put into a pool to be controlled by himself. The successful conduct of a newspaper is essentially a one-man affair. A newspaper that may be subjected to the varying selfish whims and caprices of a number of owners is sure of trouble of many kinds, and a property of this kind, which a number of local politicians feel they have reason to control is as lamentable a fix for politicians as is as lamentable as a weather vane. Their interests of today may be wholly changed tomorrow by the maneuvers of the political chess board and selfishly they are very likely to want the newspaper in which they are interested to change policies as often as they do. The political friends and allies of today may be flying at one another's throats next week. Men may associate themselves together in a newspaper enterprise this year as patriots for the promotion of a great national cause, pledging themselves to eschew local and factional issues, and before the end of the year some of them may be undermining the remainder and ready to destroy the property and turn it over to the enemy unless they are permitted to use it for some selfish end. * * * When the Democrat was established at Lexington, because of the need there of a democratic newspaper, Col. Walton, an able, fearless and long successful journalist of Stanford was offered the place of editor and manager at a handsome salary. He accepted, but he made a mistake in not demanding at once a majority of the stock in his own name and that the remainder of it be pooled and held in trust for the common benefit of all the stockholders. In a few months he realized his error and resigned, but after a time, the Lexington opportunity being an inviting one, he concluded to buy a majority of the stock and resume control of the paper. Meanwhile the numerous small stockholders had taken up divers interests and a few of those whose stock Col. Walton did not buy have been making life a burden to him. Now, however, he has acquired the whole property and is going into the work of regenerating it with characteristic energy and in time he will succeed, but meanwhile he must live down the mistakes of more than two years.

A Worm Killer.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne Co., Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at R. E. AND STILL THEY TALK.

Danville Papers Print Mighty Interesting Reading For Garrard People.

Advocate:—The task of securing funds for the Louisville Southern right of way has not yet been completed. The committees have not yet been able to arrange matters to meet each individual citizen in order to discuss the matter with him personally. This is a task that requires time, and time is precious. Our opportunity cannot last forever; the hour is approaching when the committee will be called to account, and if they cannot then show up sufficient means to claim the right of way as a certainty, the conditions of the proposition may be withdrawn, and with that action terminates the last opportunity that Boyle county will see in many years to secure additional shipping facilities. With two railroad lines traversing the nearly neighboring county, there will be little inducement for future railroad building through this immediate section, and it is doubtful if ever again Boyle county will have the opportunity of securing a penetrating line. Citizens who are acquainted with the facts, and realize the breadth of the present opportunity should not delay their action in the matter, but should at the earliest possible moment lend their assistance for whatever sum they are able to give. Delay or postponement may prove a neglect that will some day be regarded as little short of criminal when its effects, in a few short years, perhaps, become apparent. Subscribe to the right of way fund, and if others neglect to do so, you at least will rest with a conscience eased by the thought that you did your duty to your county and town, and went the limit in an undertaking for their welfare.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Columbia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist. 1m Consumption Threatened.

"I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption," says C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill. "I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since." C. C. & J. E. To My Friends.

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it.—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength, of mind and body depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals. 1m

J. MORT. ROTHWELL.

This brilliant young attorney of the Lancaster bar, and staunch, unflinching Democrat, has yielded to the repeated solicitations of his many friends in this and other counties, and has entered into the contest for nomination for Commonwealth's attorney in the 12th judicial district. The race comes off in November, 1903, and this announcement would seem premature but for the fact that there have been a number of entries already, and that the nominations will be made in December of this year.

Mr Rothwell is thirty-two years of age, born and reared in Garrard county, and comes from good stock on both sides of his house. He early showed a great, natural aptitude for the law. While a school boy the trend of his mind was seen to be decidedly in that direction. His mind ran in legal channels at a time when, possibly, he was unconscious of the fact himself. He had fine powers of acquiring knowledge, of analysis, and of expressing himself forcibly at any and all times; and in the practice of his chosen profession today he is second to none as a lawyer or orator. His faculty for acquiring facts, his memory for retaining and his ability in presenting them were then and are now phenomenal. This was observed at once after he came into the practice of law. Few, if any, young lawyers in the state, could go through a trial, continuing several days, or a week, and then in an argument without note or reference, remember, array and sift, the great mass of testimony as well as he. This is a fine, in fact, an essential qualification in a prosecuting officer, who must attend to his grand jury work, which is exacting, almost constant, and very often vexatious, shape and arrange and dispose of a hundred or more cases during a term of court and at the same time manage particular cases in hand, meet promptly all objections made to his indictment by the ablest lawyers, marshal his testimony, examine and cross examine witnesses, be fully prepared to engage in a legal battle several times each day with the best lawyers in the district and finally meet all of their arguments and present the closing side of his case properly to the jury. It will be seen that it is impossible for the Commonwealth's attorney to take note of the testimony, or be prepared in all these respects, except from force of the peculiar ability required. Many able lawyers fail as prosecutors for want of these essentials. The Record can say that if Mr. Rothwell is elected to this office he will come fully up to the measure of all these requirements. While we refer to Mr. Rothwell as a "young attorney" it is proper to say that he has had nearly fourteen years of actual practice, having been licensed before he was nineteen years of age. From the beginning he has enjoyed, and conducted a large and lucrative practice which he has managed with great skill and ability, thereby meriting and receiving commendation and confidence of the community at large, which, together with universally kind, generous and courteous disposition and manner on all occasions has won and retained for him friends wherever he is known. These friends now find no greater delight, or better way of showing their appreciation of him than by presenting him for the office of Commonwealth's attorney. In politics he has never known what it was to be idle, but has on all occasions carried the party banner when called upon, and has always tried and frequently succeeded in planting it upon the inner-workings of the enemy. He was a Cleveland elector in '93 when he was barely eligible; a delegate to nearly all state and district conventions, alternate delegate for the state at large to the convention which nominated Wm. Jennings Bryan in 1896; has taken part in all state and national campaigns since '93; making speeches in nearly all the counties of the state time and again, as well as in a number of other states; contributing his time, his means, his labor and his ability faithfully and unceasingly to his party; and during all these years no one has ever questioned his Democracy. We can say without qualification that Garrard county stands, and will stand solidly behind him; that he will have a strong personal and political backing in the other counties. The district will certainly make no mistake, but will do a wise thing by nominating him and the people by electing him to this office.
